

2024 STUDENT RESEARCH WEBINAR

A window into the vibrant world of academic exploration and innovation happening within our institution.

In this webinar, students at different levels including undergraduate, and postgraduate will take the virtual stage to share their latest research projects, providing you with a first-hand look at their projects and ideas.

From research development to insightful analyses, our students have worked very hard to solve scientific problems related to misophonia, tinnitus and hyperacusis, and they are excited to share their findings with you.

This webinar not only explores the discoveries of our students but also underscores the collaborative and dynamic research environment that defines Hashir International Institute. We believe that sharing these projects with the public enriches the broader intellectual discourse and fosters a sense of engagement and curiosity.
